

What types of sedation options are available as well as procedures for children under 5 years

Intravenous sedation where a specialised doctor will place the patient under sedation in the dental chair at the practice. This is recommended for larger procedures like dentectomies (removal of all teeth and roots in the jaw for preparation of placing a full denture)

Theater can be arranged for general anaesthesia which will include involved procedures like removal of impactions (wisdoms) procedures for children under 5 years.